

I'm sorry
I burned the roast
I was too busy
curled up in a ball
watching the news go by watching people I trusted defend rapists and nazis watching my last hopes for nonviolent solutions evaporate
watching my last hopes for violent solutions collapse
watching Rome burn
slowly
I'm sorry
I couldn't pull it together enough to notice the time before the smell caught up with me and I raced in too late always too late
to save the day
and now we have nothing
but apologies
and taco bell
